Sienna Senior Living – Executive Summary- Key Findings

Shirley Thomas-Weir, VP of Operations Long-Term Care, Daile Moffatt, VP Quality and Informatics, Philippa Welch, VP Clinical Operations, and Joanne Dykeman, Executive Vice President, Operations attended from Sienna Senior Living to present an overview of the operational review findings. David Hung, Director of Finance, participated by telephone.

Four pillars of operation were discussed: financial, quality, human resources and operating platform. Recommendations to address the findings were presented. Accreditation was discussed at length.

The Committee was provided a summary of the resolutions in place regarding next steps in the operational review process and the contract with Sienna by CAO Wingrove.

Staff will work with Sienna to deliver a fulsome report in July. It was noted that addressing the recommendations in the operational review would be part of the process to obtain accreditation. The accreditation process takes approximately eighteen months, so a decision to move toward accreditation would need to happen soon to allow sufficient time to meet the fall 2018 commencement timeline. Sienna presenters indicated that many LHINs are moving toward the requirement of accreditation to maintain the licensing agreements.

Chair Burley declared a five-minute recess following which the committee meeting resumed.

Reports – Long Term Care

LTCR-CM-20-18 Single Source - Staff Agency Contract

Lynne Johnson advised that long-term care homes are required to have a staffing plan that meets both resident and operational needs. Securing the services of a supplemental staffing agency will help with filling shifts that could not be filled from the existing staff pool.

Challenges with the services from the current staffing agency have led to sourcing a new provider.

Plan A charges an hourly wage and mileage if the trip is over 100 km. The company is currently located in Barrie and is looking to open an office in Collingwood which will reduce the cost for mileage.

Plan A staffing resources is exclusively focused on long-term care. The staff are trained on Ministry standards and common electronic documentation platforms. There is an opportunity to hire staff permanently after thirty worked shifts with Plan A. This could be a recruiting tool.

CM42-18 Moved by: Councillor Wright Seconded by: Warden Halliday

That report LTCR-CM-20-18 regarding a single source contract for supplementary staffing be received and that staff be authorized to enter into a three year contract with Plan A for the provision of supplemental staffing; and

The research in sourcing beds and mattresses in 2016 was extensive and Specialty Furniture was awarded the 2016 and 2017 contract.

CM45-18  Moved by: Warden Halliday  Seconded by: Councillor Paterson

Additional Provisions relating to the Program are set out in Schedule “C”.
C.1 BACKGROUND
The Portable Housing Benefit – Special Priority Policy (PHB-SPP) Program will provide up to $10 million in 2018-19 and up to $15 million in 2019-20, and ongoing, for housing assistance for, among others, households included in the special priority category under the Housing Services Act, 2011.

The Program is to be administered and delivered by the Ministry of Housing, with assistance from the Service Manager and the Ministry of Finance.

Through the Program, the Ministry of Housing aims to provide SPP households with additional options to meet their housing needs and alleviate pressure on the social housing system. Instead of staying in shelters or other precarious housing situations until a social housing unit becomes available, this Program would provide survivors of domestic violence or human trafficking with the option to receive a portable housing benefit so they can quickly find housing in their community.

A portable housing benefit is a subsidy provided to a low-income household to help with housing costs. The subsidy gives a household the freedom to choose where to live since it is not tied to a specific unit like most rent-geared-to-income social housing. The Ministry of Finance will provide the portable housing benefit directly to the person who applies for the benefit on behalf of the SPP household or their landlord.

C.2 PROGRAM OBJECTIVE

The Program has three objectives:

- To increase support for those experiencing domestic violence or human trafficking to obtain and retain housing;
- To decrease wait times for housing assistance for SPP households on the chronological wait list for social housing and others who have participated in the SDV-PHB Pilot; and
- To expand housing choice for SPP households.

HIGHLIGHTS

Ontario is launching the Portable Housing Benefit - Special Priority Policy program to provide rental assistance to households who qualify for the Special Priority Policy category prescribed in Ontario Regulation 367/11 under the Housing Services Act, 2011.

Eligible applicants who would prefer to live in private rental housing rather than wait for social housing are able to apply for monthly portable housing benefit payments under this program. Eligible applicants may also receive funds directly from Service Managers for first and last month’s rent.

Monthly payments to participants are calculated based on household income, as reported on households’ latest Canada Revenue Agency notice(s) of assessment, or as verified by Service Managers in certain circumstances. The Ministry of Finance will pay the benefit to participants each month, recalculate the benefit as required, and verify continued eligibility annually.

As the monthly housing benefit is fully portable within Ontario, participants will continue receiving a benefit if they move to a rental unit in another Service Manager area.

Service Managers will help deliver this program by providing program information to eligible applicants and supporting the application process. Service Managers will receive an administration payment for each application approved for their service area and will be reimbursed for funding provided to eligible applicants for first and last month’s rent.
INTRODUCTION
The 2017 Ontario Budget announced the province will invest $30 million over the next three years in the Portable Housing Benefit - Special Priority Policy (PHB-SPP) program to eventually support up to 3,000 survivors of domestic violence and provide them with the flexibility to choose where they want to live. This ongoing program was announced on November 28, 2017.

A portable housing benefit (PHB) is a monthly subsidy (housing allowance) provided to a low-income household to assist with housing costs. Unlike other forms of housing assistance, the benefit is tied to the household and not a physical housing unit, allowing the benefit to move with the household to any Service Manager area in Ontario. As a result, recipients will have more flexibility to choose where they live to be closer to family, social support networks, schools and employment opportunities. The PHB-SPP program will provide households who qualify for the Special Priority Policy (SPP) category prescribed in Ontario Regulation 367/11 under the Housing Services Act, 2011 with an additional option to meet their housing needs while also alleviating pressure on the broader social housing system. This program will provide these households with the option to receive a PHB to help them obtain or retain housing, rather than staying in shelters or other precarious housing situations until a social housing unit becomes available. Households who are approved to receive benefits under this program will not remain on the social housing waiting list of their local Service Manager, with the exception of certain households transitioning from the Survivors of Domestic Violence - Portable Housing Benefit (SDV-PHB) Pilot program.

Scope of the Guidelines
These guidelines form part of the PHB-SPP Transfer Payment Agreements between the province and Service Managers. They provide a framework for the PHB-SPP program and are designed to assist Service Managers with their administration of the program in their local communities.

The Ministry of Housing (MHO) recognizes that changes to the program design may be necessary in the future; as such, the guidelines may be updated as needed, and any updates will be communicated to Service Managers.

Provincial Context
The province has undertaken a number of related strategic initiatives to tackle the challenges of housing and homelessness. The PHB-SPP program complements the government’s efforts to improve responses to households experiencing violence, such as:

- “It’s Never Okay: An Action Plan to Stop Sexual Violence and Harassment”;
- “Walking Together: Ontario’s Long-Term Strategy to End Violence Against Indigenous Women”;
- and
- Ontario’s Strategy to End Human Trafficking.

The PHB-SPP program is informed by the following initiatives:

1. Special Priority Policy (SPP)

The SPP provides priority access to social housing for eligible households leaving abusive situations, including survivors of domestic violence and survivors of human trafficking. The policy is intended to ensure that housing is not an inhibiting factor for a household to leave an abusive situation in circumstances where they cannot afford private market accommodation.

As set out in Ontario Regulation 367/11 of the Housing Services Act, 2011, Service Managers are required to provide households eligible for the SPP category priority placement on the centralized waiting list for rent-geared-to-income (RGI) assistance above all other applicants.

Recently, amendments were made to the SPP to expand the policy to include survivors of human trafficking, improve the application process for households, and better ensure the policy is culturally inclusive to Indigenous groups and reflective of the complex cycle of abuse experienced by some households.

Aligning with the roll-out of the PHB-SPP program, all Service Managers were required to comply with the SPP regulatory amendments by April 1, 2018.

2. Long-Term Affordable Housing Strategy (LTAHS) Update

In March 2016, the province released the LTAHS Update, which reflects new research and best practices that support Ontario’s transformation towards a better housing system, including the design and administration of this program.

The LTAHS Update is guided by an updated vision:

Every person has an affordable, suitable and adequate home to provide the foundation to secure employment, raise a family and build strong communities.

The vision is associated with two overarching outcomes:

- Decreasing the number of people who are homeless; and
- Increasing the number of families and individuals achieving housing stability.

As part of the updated LTAHS, Ontario committed to developing a framework for a PHB. Traditionally, Ontarians in need of housing assistance have relied primarily on receiving RGI assistance and been required to live in specific housing units to receive this assistance.

The Portable Housing Benefit Framework (PHB Framework or “the Framework”) – which is now reflected in regulation under the Housing Services Act, 2011 – creates the opportunity for Service Managers to use a PHB as an alternative means towards meeting their service level standards if it is delivered in accordance with the regulation.

A PHB provides a monthly subsidy to low-to-moderate income households to assist with housing costs. Unlike RGI assistance, a PHB is tied to an applicant instead of a physical housing unit.

A PHB has multiple benefits for recipients:

- It gives people on a social housing waiting list a potential option to receive a housing benefit that would give them more flexibility and choice about where they live, so they could choose to live closer to employment, child care, schools or family.
- It may help applicants who like where they are living but face affordability challenges to remain where they live.
- Relative to the RGI calculation, the PHB calculation is simplified and reassessed annually using income tax information; by moving to an annual benefit calculation, recipients have an incentive to earn income as they do not experience an increase in rent with every change in income.

The PHB Framework also provides Service Managers with the opportunity to create more vibrant mixed-income communities due to a greater ability to diversify their housing options.

The LTAHS Update also included priority investments into the province’s housing and homelessness systems, including a two-year PHB pilot program for households eligible for the SPP category (SDV-PHB Pilot program).

3. SDV-PHB Pilot Program (2016-2018)

In September 2016, MHO launched the SDV-PHB Pilot program in 22 Service Manager areas. Similar to the PHB-SPP program, eligibility to participate in the Pilot was first determined by whether a household qualified for the SPP category. If households were included in the SPP category, applied and agreed to participate in the SDV-PHB Pilot, they were provided with an alternative form of housing assistance through a PHB. The purpose of the Pilot program was to explore how the benefit could address issues of lengthy wait times, lack of choice, and pressures related to social housing waiting lists among some Service Managers.

Service Managers had the flexibility under the Pilot program to design their own local PHB programs for eligible applicants. These flexibilities included determining PHB amounts as well as the option to offer additional funds for first and last month’s rent.

Key findings and lessons learned from the Pilot program highlighted the significant and immediate positive impact it had on the ability of households to quickly find safe, stable and affordable housing, and the strong support of participants to recommend the program to other households.

An important element in the success of the Pilot program was the fact that Service Managers worked very closely with third-party service providers in their areas, such as Violence Against Women support providers and homeless shelters. These agencies provide support services and refer applicants to Service Managers for assistance. The Ministry of Community and Social Services (MCSS) has continued to work closely with the Violence Against Women sector and helped promote the program to that sector through its network of regional offices and the Violence Against Women Stakeholder Advisory Group.

Based on the experience gained in the Pilot program, Service Managers are encouraged to continue working closely with the Violence Against Women sector, and MHO and MCSS regional offices, to promote the expanded PHB-SPP program and ongoing supports available to applicants applying for the SPP category.
PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Objectives
The PHB-SPP program has three objectives:

- To provide households who qualify for the SPP category with housing support;
- To decrease wait times for housing assistance; and
- To expand housing choice for households who are eligible for the SPP category.

Outcomes
The PHB-SPP program will deliver outcomes to recipients over the immediate, short, intermediate and long term, including:

- Receiving housing assistance more quickly than households in the SPP category who are waiting for RGI assistance;
- Having more choice of suitable housing (e.g., housing type, quality, location);
- Having a reduced rent burden (lower percentage of income spent on shelter costs);
- Being less likely to return to an emergency shelter;
- Experiencing improved household financial well-being; and
- Having improved quality of life.

MHO will develop and use an evaluation framework to assess the effectiveness of the program.

Funding
Subject to annual budget approvals, the province is committed to providing stable, ongoing funding for the program. Up to $10 million in 2018-19 and up to $15 million in 2019-20 is available for eligible applicants approved for the program, including households participating in the SDV-PHB Pilot program on March 31, 2018. Due to the PHB-SPP program budget, the ministry cannot guarantee funding of all eligible applicants.

Service Managers will provide eligible households with the option to apply for the PHB-SPP program to help them obtain or retain housing rather than wait for a social housing unit to become available. Households across the province who qualify for the SPP category, apply for the program, and are approved will be provided with a monthly subsidy to assist with the costs of renting a unit of their choosing in the private market.

Service Managers will not receive annual funding allocations. All Service Managers are eligible to receive funding from MHO on a quarterly basis:

- Towards administration costs related to supporting the program; and
- To be reimbursed for first and last month’s rent assistance provided to applicants who are approved for the program, as appropriate.

Service Managers will receive a one-time administration payment of $250 for each application from their service area that is approved for the program. Administration payments will be made quarterly based on the number of eligible applicants approved for the program in each service area, as reported by the Ministry of Finance (MOF) through an online portal.
Details related to Service Managers providing approved applicants with funding for first and last month’s rent are included in the “First and Last Month’s Rent” section on page 16.

In order to receive funding, Service Managers are required to sign a Transfer Payment Agreement with MHO and MOF that sets out the roles and responsibilities of the parties and the accountability framework for the program, including the terms for funding and reporting requirements. Funding is conditional upon MHO receiving the required quarterly reports from Service Managers. For more information, see the “Transfer Payment Agreements” section on page 19.

Timeframe

Service Managers delivering the SDV-PHB Pilot program will continue making monthly payments until June 30, 2018, and are responsible for helping Pilot participants transition into the PHB-SPP program. MOF begins payments to PHB-SPP program recipients, including households who have transitioned from the SDV-PHB Pilot, in July 2018.

Eligibility Criteria: Applicants

Applicants who are not participating in the SDV-PHB Pilot program must meet the following criteria to be eligible to begin receiving a PHB-SPP benefit:

- Reside in Ontario;
- Be on a social housing waiting list and eligible for the SPP category set out in Ontario Regulation 367/11 under the Housing Services Act, 2011;
- Be a renter household or fleeing an abusive situation;
- Not be in receipt of, or part of a household in receipt of, RGI assistance, a PHB-SPP benefit, or any other government-funded housing benefit, with the exception of social assistance shelter payments; and
- Consent to being removed from the social housing waiting list of the Service Manager that designated the household under the SPP, once a PHB-SPP benefit is received.

Note: For the purpose of this program, household members include the applicant; applicant’s spouse or partner (if applicable) and any dependents who reside in the household. If an applicant is sharing his or her household with an individual that is not a household member as defined above (e.g., friend or roommate), the individual is not included as a household member.

All households participating in the SDV-PHB Pilot program as of March 31, 2018 are eligible to apply to receive assistance under the PHB-SPP program. See the “SDV-PHB Pilot Program (2016-2018) Recipients” section on page 10 for information on the application process for Pilot participants.

No member of a household receiving a PHB-SPP benefit may receive, or be part of a household that receives, RGI assistance, more than one PHB-SPP benefit, or another government-funded housing benefit (e.g., housing allowance under the Investment in Affordable Housing program) at the same time, with the exception of social assistance shelter payments.

Service Managers may provide Community Homelessness Prevention Initiative funding to recipients of the PHB-SPP program who need emergency assistance, since that assistance is not intended to be ongoing.
A household receiving a PHB-SPP benefit may reside in a unit that received assistance under a government program (e.g., the Canada-Ontario Affordable Housing Program), where that assistance was attached to the unit and not the household members.

All eligibility criteria will be clearly listed on the application form provided to program applicants.

In addition to the eligibility criteria outlined, participation of new eligible applicants in the program each year is on a first-come, first-served basis, and is subject to annual provincial budget approvals.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

As set out in paragraphs 3 and 4 of section 60 of Ontario Regulation 367/11 under the Housing Services Act, 2011, when reviewing RGI eligibility, Service Managers are prohibited from requesting information or documents with respect to a household that was included in the SPP category when the household began to receive RGI assistance if a member of the household believes that he or she or any member of the household will be at risk of abuse if they obtain the information or documents.

This rule also applies when a household is initially applying for a benefit under this program. It could affect obtaining information needed to file taxes or information related to changes in income, which if not accessible by any other means, may require interaction with the abusing individual or the individual engaged in trafficking and put a person at risk of further abuse. In such a case, income would be calculated by the Service Manager based on the best available information. See the “Exemption from Automated Income Verification” section on page 16 for details on this process.

Eligibility Criteria: Ongoing

Annually each Spring, households receiving monthly program benefits must complete an annual renewal form to confirm their ongoing eligibility and to update MOF of any changes to household composition, address and other relevant information.

By the time of the first renewal, and each year thereafter, household members must meet the following criteria annually to remain eligible for the program:

- Reside in Ontario;
- Be a renter household; and
- Not be in receipt of, or part of a household in receipt of, RGI assistance, more than one PHB-SPP benefit, or any other government-funded housing benefit, with the exception of social assistance shelter payments.

Recipients who do not confirm their eligibility by submitting an annual renewal form within 120 days of the annual renewal deadline will no longer be eligible for the PHB-SPP program.

In addition to the above criteria, all household members must meet the following criterion by the time of the second renewal, and each year thereafter, to remain eligible for the program:

- Do not own a home suitable for year-round occupancy (within or outside Ontario).

By the time of the second renewal, all members of the household with a legal or beneficial interest in a residence (either in or outside Ontario) that is suitable for year-round occupancy must divest (i.e. sell) their interest and notify MOF in writing, or be ineligible to be included in the household, except in extenuating circumstances.

Households receiving a nil benefit payment for 24 consecutive months will lose their eligibility under the program, receive a notice of their ineligible status, and exit the program.

Portability

The PHB-SPP benefit is fully portable across Ontario. Participants can continue to receive a monthly benefit when they move to a rental unit in another Service Manager area. When a participant moves to a different Service Manager area, the amount of the monthly benefit may change, based on the new Average Market Rent (AMR) for the corresponding size of unit in the new community. See the “In-Year Changes” section on page 16 for more information.
PROGRAM DELIVERY

MHO has overall responsibility for the policy and oversight of the PHB-SPP program; Service Managers provide program information to eligible households and support the application process; MOF processes applications for the PHB-SPP program, monthly benefit payments and ongoing eligibility; and ServiceOntario operates the program’s Information Centre (call centre). For a full list of activities and responsibilities, see the “Roles and Responsibilities” section on page 20.

Benefits under the PHB-SPP program will be delivered consistent with, but with appropriate modifications to, the PHB Framework set out in Schedule 4.1 of Ontario Regulation 367/11 under the Housing Services Act, 2011.

Delivering the program consistent with the PHB Framework, with necessary modifications to accommodate this program’s design, will provide a number of benefits, including:

- Ensuring a similar calculation of the benefit across the province and a consistent programmatic approach, while being responsive to local conditions;
- Enabling households to retain in-year increases in income; and
- Allowing applicants to live in communities that best suit their needs (e.g., education, child care, employment opportunities, community engagement).

SDV-PHB Pilot Program (2016-2018) Recipients

All households receiving assistance under the SDV-PHB Pilot program are eligible to apply for the PHB-SPP program. Service Managers delivering the SDV-PHB Pilot program should provide applications for the PHB-SPP program to all Pilot participants when they become available in May 2018.

Service Managers that provided Pilot benefits to households through Direct Delivery will continue to provide monthly housing benefits to eligible households between April 1, 2018 and June 30, 2018.

Where Pilot recipients transitioning to the PHB-SPP program have demonstrated to the Service Manager a need to receive additional support to bridge the gap between Pilot benefits typically received at the beginning of the month and the first PHB-SPP benefit payment in late July 2018, Service Managers may provide the recipients with an additional benefit payment. Service Managers should reflect the total assistance they will provide to Pilot households in their Take-Up Plan for the period of April 1, 2018 to June 30, 2018.

Households receiving assistance under the Pilot as of March 31, 2018 who apply for the expanded PHB-SPP program may choose to:

- Transition to the ongoing program and be removed from the social housing waiting list of the Service Manager that designated the household under the SPP; or
- Remain on the social housing waiting list in the Service Manager area that designated the household under the SPP and approved their participation in the Pilot until June 30, 2019, or until they accept an offer of RGI assistance, whichever is sooner.

These households will:

- Be eligible to receive monthly assistance until June 30, 2019 in either the amount they received under the Pilot as of March 31, 2018 or the amount calculated for the PHB-SPP benefit, whichever is greater; and
• Not be eligible for first and last month’s rent assistance under the PHB-SPP program.

As of July 1, 2019, all former Pilot participants receiving assistance under the PHB-SPP program will have the amount of their monthly assistance calculated in accordance with the PHB-SPP program guidelines.

Application and Annual Renewal Process

1. The Service Manager provides PHB-SPP program information to households it has determined are eligible for the SPP category, including:
   • The criteria for assessing the initial and continued eligibility of an applicant for the PHB-SPP benefit;
   • The method used in calculating the benefit at the time of application, for annual reviews and for in-year reassessments;
   • How RGI assistance would be calculated if the household received an offer of RGI assistance;
   • The effect of the receipt of a PHB-SPP benefit or RGI assistance on social assistance payments that a member of the household is receiving or is entitled to receive under Ontario Works or the Ontario Disability Support Program; and
   • Advising the applicant that they may be contacted by MOF to provide and receive additional information on the benefit.

To support the applicant’s informed consent and decision to apply for a PHB-SPP benefit, the Service Manager must include in this communication any support persons that the applicant requests and consents to being involved.

2. The Service Manager provides a PHB-SPP application form to an interested eligible applicant.

3. The Service Manager assists the applicant with the completion of the application form and applicable schedules.

4. The Service Manager will determine household net income and adjusted family net income (AFNI) for applicants, and complete the Schedule 2 (Income Tax Filing Exemption), if:
   • The household has not filed the required income tax return(s) in the previous calendar year; or
   • The most recent income tax return(s) does not reflect the household’s current financial circumstances.

See the “Exemption from Automated Income Verification” section on page 16 for details on this process.

5. The applicant (or Service Manager, if requested by the applicant) submits the completed application form to MOF by mail, along with the necessary schedules (e.g., Schedule 1: Additional Income Earners), if applicable, and the Service Manager-completed Schedule 2 (Income Tax Filing Exemption), if applicable. The application form includes written consent permitting the CRA to disclose taxpayer information to MOF for the purpose of administering the PHB-SPP program, and for the applicant to be contacted at a later date as part of a program evaluation.
6. MOF processes the application and verifies the application is complete. If the application is not complete, MOF follows up with the applicant, or the Service Manager where necessary, to request additional information.

7. MOF reviews completed applications and confirms eligibility based on the criteria set out in these guidelines and availability of funding.
   - If eligible, MOF calculates the benefit amount either based on the Service Manager calculation of net income and AFNI or its own determination, verifies income where the Service Manager has not done so, and provides the applicant with a Notice of Entitlement.
   - If ineligible, MOF informs the applicant and Service Manager of the ineligibility determination and answers applicant enquiries.

ServiceOntario handles initial enquiries from applicants regarding the application form, with MOF following up as necessary.

8. MOF begins making monthly payments to participants according to the Notice of Eligibility. With respect to how long a client would have to wait before their first monthly payment is received, MOF will make every effort to ensure that applications received by the relevant monthly cut-off date are processed for the upcoming payment date. In the event of incomplete information on an application or information that is inconsistent with CRA, the processing time may be delayed.

9. When MOF approves an applicant for the PHB-SPP program, the Service Manager provides first and last month’s rent to the applicant (as appropriate), and removes the applicant from its social housing waiting list (as necessary).

10. Each Spring, MOF provides program participants with an annual renewal form. Households complete and submit the annual renewal form by the deadline included in the form to confirm they comply with ongoing eligibility requirements and inform of any changes (e.g., household composition, address).

11. Annually by April 30, participants must submit a federal income tax return to the CRA to enable MOF to calculate the monthly benefit based on household income.

12. Based on the updated calculation of the household’s monthly benefit, MOF provides participants with a Notice of Entitlement including the benefit amount and proceeds to make monthly payments by direct deposit. Payments will be made by direct deposit only, except for extenuating circumstances.

Participants may contact the ServiceOntario Information Centre for more information on the calculation of the monthly benefit, or to request a redetermination of their benefit amount based on changes to the information submitted to MOF with the annual renewal form.

Service Level Standards

Applicants assisted under the program do not count towards meeting Service Managers’ service level standards. Service level standards identify the minimum number of low income households required to receive RGI assistance (or approved alternative assistance) in Service Manager areas, as set out in the Housing Services Act, 2011.
PAYMENTS TO APPLICANTS

MOF provides benefit payments by direct deposit each month to the individual who applied for the benefit on behalf of the household and signed the application form. Alternatively, the applicant can choose to have the funds deposited directly to a landlord by submitting a Schedule 6 form (Landlord Consent to Receive Payment). Payments will be made by direct deposit only, except for extenuating circumstances.

Service Managers provide payments directly to applicants for first and last month’s rent in accordance with the program guidelines and as outlined in the “First and Last Month’s Rent” section on page 16.

Calculation of Portable Housing Benefit

The benefit is calculated using a formula that is generally consistent with Schedule 4.1 of Ontario Regulation 367/11 under the Housing Services Act, 2011. The formula includes AMR and adjusted family net income (AFNI).

This formula is responsive to changes in:

- Household income, through the use of AFNI;
- Household composition, through selecting the AMR for the type of housing associated with the family composition; and
- Local housing markets, through the use of local AMR.

For information on the benefit calculation for social assistance recipients, see the “Interaction with Social Assistance” section on page 15.

Average Market Rent (AMR)

The amount of a PHB is based on the difference between 80 per cent of the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) AMR for an appropriately sized rental unit, based on household composition, and 30 per cent of annual household AFNI divided by 12. AMR is defined as the average expense of market rent in the relevant service area, as provided by CMHC to MHO based on CMHC’s annual rental survey. AMR is a standard measure used in other housing programs and MHO updates AMR information on its website annually.

The PHB-SPP program only uses AMRs for unit sizes of one bedroom, two bedrooms and three bedrooms. Recipients will receive a monthly benefit based on a calculation using a unit size no smaller than one bedroom and no larger than three bedrooms. Households requiring more than three bedrooms will receive a benefit based on a calculation using AMR for three bedrooms.
MOF will use a uniform set of occupancy standards to calculate the amount of a monthly benefit based on the appropriate unit size for each eligible household, as follows:

- Spouses/partners will be designated one bedroom; and
- Every other person in the household will be designated a separate bedroom.

Households may reside in any size of accommodation they choose, regardless of the number of bedrooms determined by the occupancy standards.

Adjusted Family Net Income (AFNI)

The AFNI of a household is based on the income of each member of the household who is at least 17 years old, excluding those who are in full-time attendance at a recognized educational institution. Benefits received under this program are exempted as income for the purpose of calculating the monthly PHB-SPP benefit.

When an applicant applies to the program, household net income and AFNI will be determined by MOF if the relevant tax information is available for each household member whose income is to be included in the calculation. Household net income and AFNI will be determined by the Service Manager for new applicants if:

- The household has not filed the required income tax return(s) in the previous calendar year; or
- The most recent income tax return(s) does not reflect the household’s current financial circumstances.

Where the relevant tax information is available for each household member whose income is to be included in the calculation, household net income is determined by MOF using the latest annual CRA notice(s) of assessment. MOF will use the net income for relevant household members indicated on line 236 of the latest notice(s) of assessment issued under the Income Tax Act (Canada) for the most recent taxation year that ended before the application is considered, adjusted as follows, or if no notice of assessment has been issued, the amount that would appear on that line had the notice of assessment been issued, adjusted as follows:

- By subtracting from that amount any payments from a registered disability savings plan received by the member in that taxation year and any payment of a PHB received by the member in that taxation year; and
- By adding to that amount any payments from a registered disability savings plan repaid by the member in that taxation year.

Where the Service Manager is determining household net income and AFNI of new applicants for the reasons outlined above, the net income of each household member whose income is to be included in the calculation is determined by the Service Manager using:

- The best information available; and
- The amount that best approximates each member’s net income adjusted as outlined above and based on the Service Manager’s projections of income and deductions for the 12-month period beginning on the first day of the month following the month in which the application is considered.

The Service Manager provides the calculated amount on Schedule 2 (Income Tax Filing Exemption) of the application.
The maximum monthly benefit payable is 80 per cent of AMR less $85. The minimum monthly benefit payable is $10. Any monthly benefit calculated as an amount less than $10 will be considered a nil ($0) payment.

During each annual review, the benefit is calculated by MOF using the latest household notice(s) of assessment for the most recent taxation year, as indicated above. However, households with significant decreases in income or other changes (e.g., changes to household composition) may require an in-year reassessment, as outlined in the “In-Year Changes” section on page 16.

Using AFNI to define income is consistent with other modern forms of assistance, such as the Ontario Child Benefit.

Interaction with Social Assistance

Under Ontario Works and the Ontario Disability Support Program, recipients receive a shelter allowance as a portion of their monthly entitlement up to a maximum amount based on actual shelter costs and household size. Social assistance recipients are eligible to receive the maximum shelter amount if their shelter costs exceed the maximum.

The Ontario Works Act, 1997 and the Ontario Disability Support Program Act, 1997 allow for housing benefits to be exempted as income, where approved by the Director of Ontario Works or the Ontario Disability Support Program, up to the difference between actual shelter costs (e.g., rent) and the actual shelter allowance payable (which is capped at maximum shelter costs). This exemption was approved for the SDV-PHB Pilot program.

For social assistance recipients, consistent with the PHB Framework, the same PHB calculation formula applies to determine the maximum benefit amount for a household. The social assistance shelter allowance will be provided in the normal fashion, however the PHB will fill the gap between the social assistance shelter allowance and actual shelter costs, up to the maximum PHB amount.

If actual shelter costs increase or a recipient moves to a unit with higher rent, the PHB amount paid will increase but remain subject to the maximum PHB amount. In addition, if a recipient no longer receives social assistance, the maximum PHB amount will be paid to the household.

As a result, recipients receiving social assistance are required to contact the ServiceOntario Information Centre to report any changes (increases or decreases) in their shelter costs to allow MOF to adjust their PHB-SPP benefit accordingly.

Recipients receiving social assistance do not need to report month-to-month changes in utilities because shelter costs are averaged over a year.

Automated Income Verification

MOF conducts annual Automated Income Verification using CRA income tax information. For instance, for the 2019 to 2020 benefit period (July 1, 2019 to June 30, 2020), 2018 income tax information would be used for Automated Income Verification. As a result, households receiving a PHB-SPP benefit must submit CRA income tax return(s) each year by April 30. Failure to submit the required income tax return(s) may result in a delay in benefit payments.
Exemption from Automated Income Verification

Applicants entering the PHB-SPP program may be exempted from Automated Income Verification for their initial benefit calculation where:

- The household has not filed the required income tax return(s) in the previous calendar year; or
- The most recent income tax return(s) does not reflect the household’s current financial circumstances.

In this situation, Service Managers will manually calculate and verify household net income and AFNI, as outlined in the “Adjusted Family Net Income (AFNI)” sub-section of the “Calculation of Portable Housing Benefit” section that begins on page 13.

If information is not available for an initial benefit calculation because a member of the household believes that he or she or any member of the household will be at risk of abuse if the information is obtained, the Service Manager will calculate and verify household net income and AFNI based on the best available information. See the “Important Note” in the “Eligibility Criteria: Applicants” section that begins on page 7 for more information.

During that year of exemption, household members will be required to submit annual income tax returns to the CRA by April 30. Households who were initially exempt will be required to have Automated Income Verification based on their annual notice(s) of assessment going forward.

First and Last Month’s Rent

For applicants approved for the program by MOF, Service Managers may provide funding directly for first and last month’s rent, where the applicant has demonstrated to the Service Manager a need to receive the payment. Where Service Managers have a method for determining household need under the Community Homelessness Prevention Initiative Program, a similar process should be applied.

The amount of first and last month’s rent shall not exceed the lesser of:

- Twice the amount of the actual rent paid by the approved household; or
- Twice the amount of 100 per cent of the CMHC AMR for an appropriately sized rental unit, based on household composition.

MHO will flow these funds to Service Managers on a quarterly basis retroactively, in accordance with Service Manager quarterly reports.

In-Year Changes

As indicated on the application form, participants must report any changes in personal information (e.g., household composition, address) as soon as possible to the ServiceOntario Information Centre. Subject to the following, recipients are not required to report an increase in income during the year or undergo a reassessment of the monthly benefit due to an increase in income.

MOF will perform an in-year reassessment of recipient eligibility and/or monthly benefits under the following circumstances:

- A recipient contacts the ServiceOntario Information Centre to request a reassessment due to a significant decrease of at least 20 per cent in household income (limited to one in-year reassessment each year).
- 17 -

- A recipient contacts the ServiceOntario Information Centre to advise of a move to a different Service Manager area (this may affect AMR and therefore the monthly benefit received).
- A recipient contacts the ServiceOntario Information Centre to advise of a permanent change to household composition.
- A recipient contacts the ServiceOntario Information Centre to advise that they have started or stopped receiving assistance under the Ontario Works Act, 1997 or the Ontario Disability Support Program Act, 1997.
- A recipient who is receiving social assistance contacts the ServiceOntario Information Centre to advise of a change (increase or decrease) in shelter costs.
- A Service Manager or recipient advises the ServiceOntario Information Centre that they have ceased to be eligible on certain grounds for continued eligibility (e.g., the recipient is receiving another government-funded housing benefit).

When performing an in-year review, MOF will request the necessary information from the recipient to reassess eligibility and/or recalculate the monthly benefit, as appropriate.

Where an in-year reassessment results in a change in a PHB-SPP benefit, the change will be processed at the time of the in-year reassessment.

As noted, recipients may request only one in-year reassessment between annual reviews due to a significant decrease of at least 20 per cent in household income. Where a recipient has requested an in-year reassessment due to a decrease in household income, net income and AFNI is determined by MOF using the amount that best approximates the household’s income, calculated and adjusted as outlined in the "Adjusted Family Net Income (AFNI)" sub-section of the “Calculation of Portable Housing Benefit” section that begins on page 13. The calculation is based on MOF’s projections of income and deductions for the 12-month period beginning on the first day of the month following the month in which the review is considered.

Monthly Payments

When MOF receives a completed application form or annual renewal form by the relevant monthly cut-off date or the annual renewal deadline, payment is processed on a go-forward basis according to the effective start date in the Notice of Eligibility for new applicants or the first payment date of the next benefit period for existing recipients.

If an application form is not submitted by the monthly cut-off date or is incomplete, new applicants will be paid retroactively from the effective start date in the Notice of Eligibility, not the application date, once all required information has been submitted.

If an annual renewal form is not submitted by the annual renewal deadline or is incomplete, recipients will be paid retroactively from the beginning of the new benefit year once all required information has been submitted.

Existing recipients who do not confirm their ongoing eligibility by submitting an annual renewal form within 120 days of the annual renewal deadline will no longer be eligible for the PHB-SPP program, as outlined in the “Eligibility Criteria: Ongoing” section on page 8.

If a household is absent from Ontario for more than 60 consecutive days, the household’s PHB-SPP benefit may be suspended.
Direct Deposit

All applicants, including those who are transferring from other programs, must submit direct deposit information with their applications, such as void cheques or direct deposit forms from their bank. MOF uses this information to set up monthly payments to applicants. Payments will be made by direct deposit only, except for extenuating circumstances.

T5007 Tax Forms

MOF is required to issue a T5007 tax form, known as a Statement of Benefits, to all program participants by the end of February each year. The forms report PHB-SPP monthly benefits provided to recipients as income for tax purposes. MOF issues T5007 forms to participants even in cases where payments are made directly to landlords. Benefits received under this program are exempted as income for the purpose of calculating the monthly PHB-SPP benefit.

Service Managers are required to issue T5007 tax forms to participants for first and last month’s rent payments delivered directly to households. In addition, Service Managers will issue T5007 tax forms for any monthly benefits provided to SDV-PHB Pilot households between April 1, 2018 and June 30, 2018.
ACCOUNTABILITY AND REPORTING

The province places a high degree of importance on accountability for its actions, decisions and policies with regard to the use of public funds for programs and services. The government has an obligation to demonstrate value for money and ensure that funds have been spent appropriately and in a timely manner. Accordingly, Service Managers must submit the following as accountability mechanisms for the PHB-SPP program:

- Transfer Payment Agreement with MHO and MOF;
- Quarterly Reports; and
- French Language Services Reports.

Service Managers will submit quarterly reports and French Language Services Reports as described in the respective sections of the PHB-SPP Transfer Payment Agreement.

Service Managers are required to use the Grants Ontario System to submit PHB-SPP reports. For assistance or questions regarding the Grants Ontario System, please contact the Grants Ontario – AIMS Support Desk at AIMSsupport@ontario.ca or by telephone at 416-585-7070 or 1-866-417-5399 (toll-free).

Memoranda of Understanding

Three memoranda of understanding govern the PHB-SPP program:

- MHO and MOF Memorandum of Understanding: Sets out the responsibilities of the two ministries in relation to the PHB-SPP program
- CRA and MOF Memorandum of Understanding: Enables MOF to obtain household level tax information from the CRA in order to perform Automated Income Verification during eligibility determination and benefit calculation
- MHO and ServiceOntario Memorandum of Understanding: Arranges for ServiceOntario to operate the Information Centre to respond to program enquiries from applicants and request required information, as appropriate

Transfer Payment Agreements

Service Managers must enter into a Transfer Payment Agreement with MHO and MOF for the PHB-SPP program. In accordance with the province’s Transfer Payment Accountability Directive, the agreements will contain an accountability framework, outline the roles and responsibilities of the parties, and include the terms for funding and reporting requirements. The agreement will set out the role of Service Managers, MHO and MOF in relation to the sharing of household personal information.

Quarterly Reports

Following the execution of Transfer Payment Agreements, Service Managers are required to submit quarterly reports to MHO including actual expenditures and households assisted for the previous quarter. Service Managers will also provide additional information, data and reports as needed by the ministry to report on progress made towards achieving program outcomes.
French Language Services Act Compliance

Service Managers who are located in or servicing an area that is designated under the French Language Services Act are required to:

- Ensure services are provided in French; and,
- Make it known to the public (through signs, notices, other information on services, and initiation of communications in French) that services provided to and communications with the public in connection with the PHB-SPP program are available in French.

Services being provided directly to the public by Service Managers, or through the office of a subcontractor (e.g., local non-profit agency), are required to comply with the French Language Services Act.

To demonstrate compliance, Service Managers are required to submit French Language Services Reports to MHO confirming that the requisite French language services are being provided. An initial report must be signed and submitted to MHO at the time of signing the Transfer Payment Agreement, and reports must be submitted annually thereafter by July 15.

Sample French Language Services Report templates are included as part of Transfer Payment Agreements.

4.5 MHO, MOF and the Service Manager may store any PI they receive under this Agreement by such other means as may be agreed to by all Parties.

4.6 Access to the PI will be limited to persons who need to know the PI for the purposes of administering the Program and who are authorized by an MHO, MOF or Service Manager designated official identified in Appendix “C” to access the PI for the purposes of administering the Program. The parties acknowledge that the persons identified in Appendix “D” have such a need to know and are so authorized. All Parties will put the appropriate procedures in place to ensure that the PI is accessed only by such persons.

4.7 MHO, MOF and the Service Manager will immediately give notice to the other of any loss, suspected loss, unauthorized access to or unauthorized use or disclosure of the PI provided under this Agreement. This notice must be provided to the relevant official identified in Appendix “C” and must include:

(a) a description of the relevant PI;

(b) the date on which and the place at which the PI was lost or subject to unauthorized access or disclosure;
(c) the circumstances surrounding the loss or unauthorized access or disclosure;

(d) the extent of the known or probable loss, or unauthorized access or disclosure, and the identities of any unauthorized persons who had or are believed to have had access to PI;

(e) the actions taken or contemplated to remedy the loss or unauthorized access or disclosure; and

(f) any other relevant details.

MOF and MHO will also provide this notice to their own Freedom of Information and Privacy Co-ordinators. The Service Manager will provide the notice to their own Municipal Freedom of Information and Privacy Coordinator. MHO will provide notice to the Information and Privacy Commissioner. The affected Party shall immediately take reasonable steps to prevent the recurrence of any loss or unauthorized use, access or disclosure of the information.

4.8 A written follow-up report on an event described above is to be forwarded as soon as possible by MHO, MOF or the Service Manager to the others as applicable. The report will outline the results of any investigation conducted following the initial search and notification. The report shall include the steps taken to prevent the loss from recurring. Follow-up may also include telephone or written communication between MHO, MOF, the Service Manager and the IPC.
5.0 CONDITIONS AND PROCEDURES FOR THE PROVISION OF PI

5.1 In order to maintain the confidentiality of PI, MHO, MOF and the Service Manager agree that:

(a) prior to requesting or disclosing PI, all Parties will ensure that the Applicant has properly completed and signed the certification and consent area of the Application Form;

(b) except with respect to the PI referred to in the second sentence of section 3.1, prior to requesting or disclosing PI, all Parties will ensure that the Applicant is reflected on the most current list provided under section 3.5;

(c) requests by any party for PI from any other party must be made in writing or by email by a designated official of the requesting Party and a designated official must authorize the release of the PI;

(d) the PI shared will be disclosed and used solely for the purpose of administering the Program; and

(e) only authorized persons who need to know the PI for the purposes of administering the Program will have access to and use PI obtained under this Agreement.

5.2 MHO, MOF and the Service Manager shall each ensure that the information provided to the other under this Agreement will be as accurate and complete as possible. However, all Parties recognize that complete accuracy cannot be guaranteed and that neither party shall hold the other responsible for incomplete or inaccurate transmission of information.

6.0 RETENTION AND SECURITY

6.1 MHO, MOF and the Service Manager will each retain the PI that it receives from the other for only the minimum period that is legally and administratively required for the Program. MHO, MOF and the Service Manager will destroy the PI at the end of the retention period in accordance with FIPPA and MFIPPA, as applicable, and the best practices and guidelines listed in section 4.3.

6.2 The following principles will govern the physical destruction of the PI:

(a) record disposal and destruction should be carried out in a way that protects the confidentiality of any information it contains and in accordance with FIPPA and MFIPPA, as applicable, and the best practices and guidelines listed in section 4.3; and
(b) where a record is authorized for destruction, all copies of it, including security and backup copies, must be destroyed.

7.0 DESIGNATED OFFICIALS

7.1 MHO, MOF and Service Manager officials responsible for the overall administration and security of this Schedule are identified in Appendix “C”.

8.0 COMPLIANCE LETTER

8.1 Upon request, the Service Manager will provide MHO with a letter signed by the designated official of the Service Manager identified under Appendix “C” (i) outlining the Service Manager’s protections and procedures relating to the security and confidentiality of the PI related to this Agreement and (ii) confirming that the Service Manager is in compliance with the PI related provisions of this Agreement.

9.0 STATUTORY AUTHORITIES

9.1 The statutory authorities for personal information sharing under this Schedule are set out in Appendix “E”.

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

Purpose

The purpose of this Guide is to help institutions under the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act prevent, prepare for and respond to any incident involving unauthorized disclosure of personal information (i.e., a privacy breach).

The Guide is divided into two parts:

Part 1 places the need to address privacy breaches within the broader context of privacy management. Your ability to address privacy breaches will be enhanced if you have a coordinated program designed to protect personal information. A key objective of this Part is to help you manage privacy breaches by providing guidance on how to prevent and prepare for privacy breaches.

This Part will be of particular interest to Chief Administrative Officers and Delegated Decision-Makers responsible for the protection of privacy within institutions.

Part 2 provides advice on what to do when a breach has occurred. The key objectives of this Part are to help your institution address privacy breaches by:

- increasing awareness of what constitutes a privacy breach;
- creating a standard response process or protocol to enhance consistency of approach across the Ontario Public Service; and
- defining who to notify when a privacy breach has occurred, and providing best practices regarding the timing, method and contents of the notice to the individuals affected by a breach.

This Part will be of particular interest and use to institutions’ Freedom of Information and Privacy Coordinators (Coordinators) and Program Managers responsible for responding to privacy breaches.

Context

This Guide does not replace legislative or other requirements or diminish your responsibility for complying with them. It is intended to supplement the following requirements:
• Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA): Institutions subject to FIPPA are required to follow the legislation’s rules regarding the collection, use, retention, disclosure and disposal of personal information in their custody or control. Of particular relevance to this Guide are the responsibilities FIPPA places on institutions to secure personal information and protect it from unauthorized access or disclosure.

• Personal Health Information Protection Act (PHIPA): PHIPA applies to any institution that is a health information custodian and collects, uses and discloses personal health information. Among other obligations, PHIPA requires custodians to take reasonable steps to protect personal health information from theft, loss, unauthorized use, copying, modification, disposal or disclosure. PHIPA also requires custodians to notify individuals at the first reasonable opportunity if their personal health information is stolen, lost, or accessed by unauthorized persons.

• Corporate Directives and Guidelines: In addition to the statutory obligations, institutions are required to follow rules related to privacy, information management, information technology, and security defined in corporate directives, and are encouraged to follow best practices outlined in related guidelines.¹

WHAT IS A PRIVACY BREACH?

Definition

For the purposes of this Guide, a privacy breach is defined as an incident involving unauthorized disclosure of personal information in the custody or control of an institution covered by FIPPA. This would include personal information being stolen, lost, or accessed by unauthorized persons.

Examples

Circumstances that could lead to a privacy breach include:

- personal information faxed to a wrong number or mailed to a wrong address or person;

¹ The Ontario Government’s directives, guidelines, standards and policies regarding information management and security may be found on the iNetwork Intranet site at: https://intra.sse.gov.on.ca/inetwork/resourcecentre/Pages/subject.aspx, and on the Cyber Security Intranet site at: http://intra.ops.myops.gov.on.ca/cms/tiles.nsf/(vwReadPagesByRefId_Content)/sec2006.04.27.13.50.07.NWV_page?open/sec2006.04.27.13.50.07.NWV_page?open).
- loss or theft of equipment containing personal information (e.g., memory sticks, disks, laptops, filing cabinets, photocopiers, fax machines or other devices with memory capabilities);
- disposal of equipment without secure destruction of the personal information it contains;
- use of laptops, disks, memory sticks, briefcases or other equipment to store or transport personal information outside of your office without adequate security measures;
- inappropriate use of electronic devices to transmit personal information (e.g., unsecured personal digital assistants, cell phones, or fax machines);
- intrusions into your buildings, file storage containers, or computer systems and networks;
- insufficient controls to protect personal information; and
- insufficient restrictions on access or editing rights to personal information.

PART 1 – PRIVACY MANAGEMENT

Protection of personal information is a core business function that needs to be effectively managed. Privacy management applies common management principles (e.g., planning, directing, controlling, evaluating) to the personal information collected, used, disclosed, retained and destroyed by institutions. It involves establishing and following disciplined and consistent practices for the management of personal information. To be effective, it also requires leadership and a commitment to privacy protection at all levels of your organization.

An effective privacy management program will:

- Define Roles and Responsibilities: The head of an institution is accountable for compliance with FIPPA. In most institutions, some or all of the powers or duties of a head will have been delegated to an officer or officers (e.g., Delegated Decision-Makers and Coordinators). However, the management of privacy needs to be an institution-wide initiative, engaging staff at all levels. Your staff are accountable for protecting the personal information in their custody and control.

- Align Business Practices: Integrate the protection of personal information into your programs, systems, and policies and use tools (e.g., Privacy Impact Assessments) that require you to consider privacy on a proactive basis. The public expects government services to be provided on a cost-effective basis. It is easier and less expensive to build privacy protective measures into technology, contracts, programs, practices and business continuity plans from the beginning, than to retrofit them after privacy breaches occur. Therefore, consider privacy when identifying your strategic priorities, deliverables and performance measures. Privacy should not be an after-thought.

- Educate and Enhance Awareness: Education about privacy, as well as FIPPA’s requirements, will help your staff understand why privacy is important and how to protect it. Education and awareness are vital to creating a culture of privacy.\(^2\)

- Monitor and Evaluate Privacy Management Program: Proper oversight is crucial to the success of any program. Therefore, periodically review your privacy policies and practices, and commit to ongoing improvement in compliance.

Privacy management programs will differ according to institutions’ needs and capacity. An institution with limited personal information holdings will have different needs than an institution with a high volume of transactions involving sensitive personal information. This customization of approach is necessary and useful to enable your institution to meet the specific needs of your clients and programs.

Addressing privacy breaches is an important part of your institution’s privacy management programs. When a privacy breach occurs, both the individuals affected by the breach and the institutions involved are potentially vulnerable to adverse consequences:

Individuals: Unauthorized disclosure of personal information violates an individual’s privacy. It creates the potential for harm, including identity theft and other forms of fraud, physical safety issues such as stalking or harassment, financial loss, adverse impact on employment or business opportunities, and damage to reputation.

Institutions: In addition to not meeting the legal requirements of FIPPA, there are other consequences, including:

- reduced productivity as staff respond to a breach or deal with a complaint;
- lost public trust and confidence due to public disclosure of a major privacy breach;
- cost of emergency measures necessary to control a breach; and
- replacement costs of hardware, software and data affected by the breach.

Preventing privacy breaches, and preparing to respond to them, are critical components of privacy management.

\(^2\) The Centre for Learning and Leadership offers several classroom and e-learning courses on privacy.

Privacy Management

- Define Roles & Responsibilities
- Align Business Practices
- Educate & Enhance Awareness
- Monitor & Evaluate

Prevent Privacy Breaches

Three areas are of particular importance to your efforts to prevent privacy breaches:

- Education: Staff (at all levels) need to understand their responsibilities to comply with FIPPA, and how to protect personal information in their work activities.

- Security: An effective security program is essential to prevent privacy breaches. As threats to security are ever-changing, there is no one type of security program that would mitigate the risks of all types of privacy breaches. Physical, technical and procedural safeguards appropriate to your programs and the scope and nature of the personal information in your custody and control need to be included in your security program.³

- Third Parties: If third party service providers collect, use, retain, disclose or destroy any personal information on your behalf, require them to implement and maintain appropriate security and privacy safeguards. Take reasonable steps to monitor and enforce their compliance with the privacy and security requirements defined in your contracts or service agreements.⁴

⁴ See the Guidelines for the Protection of Information When Contracting for Services for additional information at:
The use of the tools outlined below will help you prevent privacy breaches by identifying inappropriate information management practices and inadequate security and privacy measures. Appendix 1 contains a checklist of key questions to help you identify areas, policies and practices that need to be improved in order to prevent privacy breaches.

Privacy Audit

The purpose of a privacy audit, which is a self-assessment tool, is to identify:

- your personal information holdings;
- the information needs of your program areas or corporate functions; and
- your existing privacy and information management policies, practices and procedures.

A privacy audit will help you determine the extent to which personal information in your institution’s custody and control is maintained in accordance with FIPPA (i.e., identify short-falls).

Privacy Impact Assessment

The purpose of a Privacy Impact Assessment is to help you identify the:

- internal and external risks to privacy of a proposed initiative (e.g., new technology, information system, or program) in advance of implementation; and
- measures to address those risks – one of which could be a privacy breach if the initiative proceeds without sufficient safeguards in place.

Threat/Risk Assessment

The purpose of a Threat/Risk Assessment is to:

- assess security threats and vulnerabilities;
- document your existing security measures; and

---

6 The Privacy Impact Assessment guides and tools are available on the IPA Intranet site at: https://intra.sse.gov.on.ca/inetwork/managinginformation/privacy/Pages/pia.aspx.
• recommend appropriate and necessary security safeguards.

This tool will help you identify security issues that could have bearing on the protection of personal information and contribute to a privacy breach.\(^7\)

Prepare for Privacy Breaches

Despite your best efforts, privacy breaches will occur and, in order for you to be able to respond in a timely and effective manner, planning is essential. Focus your efforts on the four areas, outlined below, when preparing to respond to privacy breaches.

To help you prepare to respond to a privacy breach in a timely and effective manner, consider and answer the questions outlined in checklist in Appendix 1.

1. Privacy Breach Response Plan

Develop a plan that documents how the four steps of the privacy breach response protocol, outlined in Part 2 of this Guide, are adapted and applied in your institution. The creation of a response plan may involve documenting your existing practices for dealing with privacy breaches.

One of the key components of a response plan is defining when a privacy breach needs to be reported to your Deputy Minister’s Office. The Deputy Minister is responsible for determining if a breach needs to be reported to your Minister’s Office.

Having such a plan will enable you to respond to privacy breaches in a coordinated manner. As part of your privacy management program, evaluate the effectiveness of your response plan annually and implement changes, as necessary.

2. Privacy Breach Response Coordinator

Designate one person as responsible and accountable for developing your privacy breach response plan and for coordinating the implementation of that plan. Having this coordinating role helps rationalize planning and preparation, as well as enhances continuity and consistency of approach for privacy breaches.

In most institutions, the Freedom of Information and Privacy Coordinator would be the logical choice for coordinating the development and implementation of a privacy breach response plan given their knowledge and experience.

\(^7\) Information about the Threat/Risk Assessment is available on the Cyber Security Intranet at: http://intra.ops.myops.gov.on.ca/cms/tiles.nsf/(vwReadPagesByRefId_Content)/sec2006.06.26.09.57.49.JDN_page?open.
3. Privacy Breach Response Team

Identifying key players or creating a “response team” in advance of a privacy breach will help you prepare. If you already have a privacy working group or committee, involve them in preparing for and responding to privacy breaches.

The roles and responsibilities of the players involved in responding to a privacy breach are interdependent. All players responding to a breach need to work in a co-ordinated manner as a team. Strong communication amongst the players and consistent practices makes the handling of a privacy breach more effective and efficient.

Part 2 of this Guide outlines the key players that need to be involved in all privacy breaches.

4. Third Parties

Under FIPPA, your institution need not have custody of personal information to be responsible for its protection. As with prevention, if third party service providers collect, use, retain, disclose or destroy personal information on your behalf, in your contracts and service agreements require them to:

- be prepared to respond to privacy breaches in a manner consistent with your privacy breach response plan; and

- immediately report breaches to a designated contact at your institution.

PART 2 – PRIVACY BREACH RESPONSE PROTOCOL

While Part 1 focuses on privacy management and the need for your institution to take action to prevent and prepare for privacy breaches, this Part of the Guide focuses on what you need to do once a privacy breach has occurred.

Key Players in Responding to Privacy Breaches

The areas and positions needed to respond to a privacy breach will vary according to the nature of the institution and the type of breach. However, the following players need to be involved when your institution responds to any privacy breaches. The allocation of responsibilities may shift depending upon an institution’s business practices.

Staff: Staff, in all areas and at all levels of your institution, will play key roles in identifying, documenting and containing a breach. Staff dealing with clients or the public on a regular basis (e.g., Call Centre personnel) need to be aware of what to do if a privacy breach is reported by an external source.
Program Manager: Program Managers will be responsible for alerting the Coordinator of a breach or suspected breach and working with the Coordinator to implement the four steps of the response protocol. They need to be familiar with this Guide, your institution’s privacy breach response plan, the identity and contact information of the Coordinator and delegates, and fully understand their own role and responsibilities in the process.

Freedom of Information and Privacy Coordinator: The Coordinator will play a central role in your institution’s response to a privacy breach by:

- identifying the privacy implications of a breach and providing advice to the area(s) affected by the breach;
- ensuring the appropriate players are notified or involved in responding to the breach; coordinating your institution’s activities, products and communications; and
- acting as the point of contact for the Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner/Ontario (IPC) and the Information, Privacy and Archives Division (IPA), Ministry of Government and Consumer Services (MGCS).

Delegated Decision-Maker: In most institutions, the responsibility for protecting the personal information affected by the privacy breach will have been delegated to an identified position, known as a Delegated Decision-Maker. These individuals are key decision-makers in responding to privacy breaches and, therefore, need to be familiar with your institutions’ response plan and their role and responsibilities.

Third Party Service Provider: Increasingly, institutions use third parties to carry out or manage programs or services on their behalf. In such circumstances, institutions usually retain responsibility for protecting personal information in accordance with FIPPA. Therefore, third party service providers need to know their roles and responsibilities if a privacy breach occurs when they have custody of personal information. Require your service providers to inform you of all actual and suspected privacy breaches.

Additional Resources

Depending upon the nature of a breach, it may be appropriate for your Coordinator or the Program Manager of the area affected by the breach to consult with or involve other appropriate areas, such as the following:

---

8 If your institution does not have a Delegated Decision-Maker, the Director or Manager of the program area could assume this role.
Legal Services: The legal ramifications of a privacy breach need to be identified, including the impact on contracts with third party service providers. Seek legal guidance if there is reason to believe a breach is the result of a criminal act and law enforcement needs to be contacted.

Information Technology: Information technology staff have the technical skills necessary to identify a privacy/security breach, analyze what has happened and what needs to be done to contain the breach, as well as to implement short- and long-term measures to protect personal information (e.g., changing access controls, strengthening firewalls, taking systems off-line, etc.).

Issues Management/Communications: Involve this area if there is a need to develop and implement an issues management strategy (i.e., if a breach has or is likely to become a matter of public interest), or to inform the media and, by extension, the public (within the constraints imposed by FIPPA, security needs and law enforcement interests).

Contingency/Disaster Planning: If a privacy breach occurs as part of a larger incident within your institution or across institutions, your Coordinator will work with the appropriate areas or individuals responsible for contingency or disaster planning.

Human Resources: Involve your human resources area when a staff member is the possible target of an incident or is suspected of causing a privacy breach.

Physical Security/Facility Management: Involve your physical security and facilities management areas if a privacy breach occurs as a result of a failure of physical security measures, or if access to facilities is necessary (e.g., a compromised workstation is locked in an office).

Emergency Management and Security: This area is responsible for administering the personnel screening checks and needs to be notified if a privacy breach has implications on a security clearance (e.g., theft of personal information by a contractor).

IPA/Other Coordinators: For advice on how to respond, consult the IPA or other institutions’ Coordinators with experience managing privacy breaches.

Four-Step Protocol

Given the diversity of institutions and the varied nature of privacy breaches, no “one size fits all” response protocol is possible or practical. You will need to tailor your actions to ensure they are proportional and appropriate to each privacy breach. There are, however, a number of essential steps to be followed when any privacy breach occurs:

1. Respond and Contain

2. Notify
3. Investigate

4. Implement Change

These steps may need to take place simultaneously, or in rapid succession, depending upon the circumstances. Each step does not have to be completed before beginning the next.

Each step of the protocol is described below and includes suggested roles and responsibilities for the key players. Appendix 1 contains a checklist of key questions to consider and answer when determining if you have taken adequate or appropriate measures to complete each step.

Step 1 – Respond and Contain

Initiate this step as soon as a privacy breach, suspected breach or attempt at unauthorized access has been discovered. Within this one step, five actions are critical:

1. report the privacy breach to key players within the institution, to the IPA and, if necessary, to law enforcement;

2. assess the situation to determine if a breach has occurred and what needs to be done;

3. contain the privacy breach;

4. document the breach and containment activities; and

5. brief senior management.

1. Report

Internal Reporting: A privacy breach or suspected breach needs to be reported to the Program Manager of the area affected by the breach, your institution’s Coordinator, and the Delegated Decision-Maker responsible for the area involved in the privacy breach.\(^9\)

IPA, MGCS: Your Coordinator needs to inform the IPA of all privacy breaches within 24 hours of discovery. In addition, alert the IPA if you plan to report a privacy breach to your Deputy Minister’s Office.\(^10\)

---

\(^9\) Notify the Program Area Director if there is no Delegated Decision-Maker.

\(^10\) The IPA acts as an advisor to the minister responsible for the administration of FIPPA and, therefore, needs to be aware of any escalating privacy issues.
Law Enforcement: If you think a privacy breach involves illegal activities, the Program Manager or Coordinator needs to report the breach to the appropriate law enforcement agency. Consult your Legal Services Branch and Deputy Minister’s Office prior to contacting law enforcement.

2. Assess

Once an incident or suspected incident has been reported to your Program Manager and Coordinator, they need to immediately determine if a privacy breach has occurred. In making this assessment, two important questions need to be answered:

Is personal information involved?

Not all data in the custody or control of an institution is personal information. Therefore, the first part of your assessment is to identify the type of information affected by the incident.
Definition: Personal information is defined in subsection 2(1) of FIPPA as recorded information about an identifiable individual (i.e., natural person) and includes, but is not limited to: race, nationality, religion, age, sex, marital status, education, medical or criminal history, financial information, identifying numbers, address, telephone number, fingerprints, blood type, and opinions. The definition of personal information is not exhaustive – an institution may have other types of personal information in its custody or control.

Personal information may include information that is not recorded (e.g., a verbal disclosure). Also, if there is a reasonable expectation that an individual can be identified from the information disclosed (either alone or when combined with other information), such information will likely qualify as personal information.

Has an unauthorized disclosure occurred?

Unauthorized disclosure, whether it is intentional, inadvertent, or as a result of a criminal activity, is the defining activity for privacy breaches. It is the “threshold” or “trigger” mechanism for the application of this Guide.

If the answer to both questions is “yes”, a privacy breach has occurred and you need to follow the rest of the privacy breach response protocol outlined in this Guide.

Note: Institutions have a responsibility to protect personal information and to secure general records, particularly sensitive records. Respond to security breaches involving general records in accordance with established rules and regulations. Report incidents involving unauthorized collection, use, retention or disposal of personal information to your Coordinator.

4. Document

Documenting the details of a privacy breach and your containment activity allows you to implement the correct remedial measures, respond to an investigation by the IPC, and evaluate your institution’s response. Such an evaluation is an important part of privacy management.

5. Brief

Briefing senior management and, potentially, your Minister's Office is another crucial part of internal reporting, and needs to be done at the discretion of your Coordinator, Delegated Decision-Maker and Deputy Minister’s Office. The Deputy Minister will determine if briefing your Minister’s Office is necessary.

It is recommended you report any privacy breach to your Deputy Minister’s Office in the following circumstances:

- There is reasonable expectation of risk of harm to the individuals whose personal information is involved in the breach.

- The personal information at issue in the breach is very sensitive (e.g., personal health information).

- The scope of the breach is large in terms of the number of individuals affected or the amount of personal information disclosed.

- The scope of the breach is unknown and, therefore, you cannot immediately implement the steps necessary to contain it.
• The breach is the result of an unlawful act and law enforcement needs to be notified.

• The breach was identified to your institution by the media or the IPC.

• The breach is likely to result in media coverage.

When briefing your senior management or Deputy Minister’s and Minister’s Offices, include the following information:

• The nature and scope of the privacy breach (e.g., how many people are affected, what type of personal information is involved, the extent to which you have contained the breach) or, if the nature and scope are not known at the time of the briefing, that they are still to be determined.

• What steps you have already taken, or will be taking, to manage the privacy breach.

• Your plans to notify the individuals affected by the privacy breach and, if appropriate, the IPC and other parties.

• Your timetable for providing senior management with regular updates about the breach and your ongoing management of it.

Depending upon the nature of the privacy breach and your institution, it may be appropriate to brief your senior management, Deputy Minister’s and Minister’s Offices early in the response process. This will enable them to know what has occurred and how you are managing the privacy breach (i.e., what actions you are taking and planning, and when they will be updated on developments). This initial briefing may need to occur before you have fully completed your investigation.

Keeping senior management and the Deputy Minister’s and Minister’s Offices informed throughout the life cycle of a privacy breach will help them understand how your institution is addressing the breach and mitigating its consequences.

Coordinator

If a privacy breach is to be reported to your Deputy Minister's Office, inform the IPA.

Delegated Decision-Maker (if other than the Deputy Minister)

Brief senior management and, if appropriate, the Deputy Minister’s Office, as necessary.

Note: The Deputy Minister will determine if briefing the Minister's Office is necessary.

Step 2 – Notify

In addition to the reporting outlined in Step 1, there is a need to notify other parties of the privacy breach, including, most importantly, the individuals whose personal information was involved in the incident (i.e., the data subject).

Data Subject

Notifying the data subject of a privacy breach should be your default course of action when one has occurred. The purpose of providing notice of a privacy breach to the individuals whose personal information was involved in the incident is to provide them with sufficient information about:

- what happened;
- the nature of potential or actual risks of harm; and
- appropriate action to take to protect themselves against harm.

Such notice supports the purposes of FIPPA and your responsibility to protect the privacy of individuals with respect to personal information. It is also consistent with the fair information practices of openness and accountability.

<th>Suggested Responsibilities</th>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Program Manager and Coordinator</td>
<td>Work together to:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- Determine if there is a compelling reason for not notifying the data subjects of the privacy breach.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- If no, determine content, timing and method of notice in accordance with the best practices (below).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- Ensure notice is undertaken in an approved and coordinated manner.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>

<tr>

<td>Approve all decisions regarding notice to all external parties (e.g., data subject or IPC).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Third Party Service Provider</td>
<td>Participate in notifying the individuals affected by the breach in accordance with contractual obligations.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Below are listed best practices regarding the timing, method and content of notices to the individuals affected by a privacy breach.

Timing of Notice

- Notify as soon as reasonably practicable.

- Do not compound the potential harm caused by a privacy breach by providing premature notice based on incomplete facts or taking any action that might make identity theft or other harm more likely to occur as a result.

- Delay notice if:
  - law enforcement determines immediate notice would impede a criminal investigation; or
  - the breach resulted from a security or information system failure, restore and test the integrity of the system before disclosing details of the breach.

- Provide notice to the data subjects as soon as the reason for delay has been resolved.
Method of Notice

- Make every reasonable effort to directly notify each individual of the privacy breach if identities and contact information of the individuals affected by a privacy breach are known.

- Ensure notice is provided to correct individual and avoid false positives (i.e., when the notice is given to individuals whose personal information was not involved in the breach). Document the process for determining who will be notified.

- Determine if personal representatives or other authorized parties need to be notified instead of the data subject due to issues of capacity, age, language, etc.

- Determine if the seriousness or scope of the privacy breach warrants some kind of indirect notice using public communications channels (e.g., website or media) if direct notification is not possible or reasonably practicable.

If notifying by telephone or in person:

- Develop a script so each data subject receives consistent and complete information.

If notifying in writing:

- Send written notice by mail to the last known mailing address, by another means that can prove receipt of the notice, or deliver it personally.

- Send or deliver notices separately from any other mailings from your institution.

- Identify your institution on the envelope.

- Format in manner that makes your notice readable, understandable and useful.

Content of Notice

- Make every reasonable effort to provide consistent messaging, particularly when notice is to be provided verbally by multiple players.

- Include the following information in written or verbal notices to the individuals affected by a privacy breach:
  - clear identification of your institution and contact information (e.g., a toll-free telephone number, website and postal address) of the individual/area where notice recipient can make inquiries, verify validity of notice and obtain additional information about the breach;
  - a brief description of what happened and when;
to the extent possible, a generic description of the types of personal information involved in the breach, including if any unique identifiers or sensitive personal information were involved in the breach.

- a description of what you have done or are doing to contain the breach, mitigate its impact, investigate the cause and protect against any further breaches;

- a brief explanation of the potential or actual risks or threats to individuals impacted by the breach;

- an explanation of what action individuals can take to protect themselves, given the nature of the privacy breach (e.g., if identity theft is a reasonable possibility, advise the data subjects to contact their bank, credit card company, credit reporting bureau to inform them of the breach; check and monitor all bank accounts, credit card and other financial statements for any suspicious activity; and obtain a copy of their credit report);

- identify sources where individuals can find more information on identify theft, if reasonably likely to occur, and where they can report occurrences;

- an explanation of the types of assistance available to individuals from the institution or other sources;

- an indication if you have contacted the IPC and if it is investigating the privacy breach;

- a brief explanation of the individual’s right to complain to the IPC about your institution’s handling of their personal information; and

- contact information for the IPC.

Exceptions

Notifying the individuals affected by a privacy breach may not be appropriate, reasonably possible, or necessary in the following limited circumstances:

- law enforcement determines notice would impede a criminal investigation;

- notice is not in the individual’s interest (e.g., notice could potentially endanger an individual or result in greater harm to the individual);
• notice would serve no useful purpose\(^\text{12}\) (e.g., if all the personal information involved in the privacy breach is: already publicly available; recovered before an unauthorized party could possibly access it; or protected by technology, such as encryption, that would mean unauthorized access and use of the data is not reasonably possible); or

• it is not possible to provide notice (e.g., identity of individuals affected by breach is not known).

If you are considering not notifying the data subjects of a privacy breach, consultation with the IPA is recommended.

Office of the Information and Privacy Commissioner/Ontario

Determine if notifying the IPC is appropriate. Notice to the IPC is recommended when privacy breaches involve sensitive personal information or large numbers of individuals, or when the risk of harm to the data subjects is high.

The IPC will be able to provide advice and support to your institution response to a breach.

Other Parties

Depending upon the nature of the incident, it may be necessary or appropriate to notify other external parties of a privacy breach (e.g., other institutions or jurisdictions, technology suppliers, etc.). The Program Manager, Coordinator and Delegated Decision-Maker will need to make this determination on a case-by-case basis. Involve Legal Services in this decision if legal or contractual obligations are affected by a privacy breach.

\(^{12}\) In an order related to a specific privacy breach under PHIPA, the IPC found that, in the absence of evidence that any records were lost or stolen, notifying potentially thousands of patients whose records were abandoned but later recovered by the IPC, would serve no useful purpose. Notice in this case would be based on a remote possibility of unauthorized access rather than a probability. IPC Order HO-003, December 2006, pp. 9-10.

Step 3 – Investigate

Internal

Once you have contained the privacy breach:

- identify and analyze the events that led to the privacy breach;
- evaluate what you did to contain it; and
- recommend remedial action to help prevent future breaches.

In most circumstances it will be appropriate for you to investigate your own privacy breaches. Depending upon the nature and scope of the breach, you may want to involve your internal audit programs in this process.

Document the results of your internal investigation including:

- background and scope of your investigation;
- legislative implications;
- how you conducted the assessment (who did it, who was interviewed, what questions asked, what policies and practices considered, etc.);
- the source and cause of the privacy breach;
- an inventory of your systems and programs affected by the breach;
- determination of the adequacy of your existing security and privacy policies, procedures and practices;
- assessment of the effectiveness of your institution’s response to the breach (i.e., implementation of Step 1 and Step 2); and
- findings including a chronology of events and recommendations for remedial actions.

Inform your senior management of the results of the investigation so they can act upon the recommendations.
One of the most important outcomes of a privacy breach is for your institution to learn from the incident. A “lessons learned” meeting with all parties involved in the breach and response will help you evaluate your existing privacy/security measures and your incident-handling process, and identify necessary changes and improvements.

Each investigation will result in a set of documents outlining the chronology of the privacy breach, the analysis of your response, and the required remedial steps. Over time, this information will help you identify systemic privacy or security weaknesses and threats.

Depending upon the nature of a privacy breach, the IPC may investigate and publicly report on the incident. If this occurs, cooperate fully with the IPC.

Step 4 – Implement Change

When determining what changes and remedial action needs to be implemented, consider if it is necessary to:

- review your relevant information management systems to enhance compliance with FIPPA;
- amend or reinforce your existing policies and practices for managing and safeguarding personal information;
- develop and implement new security or privacy measures;
- train your staff on legislative requirements, security and privacy policies, practices and procedures to reduce the potential of future breaches; or
- test and evaluate remedial actions to determine if they have been implemented correctly, and if your policies and practices need to be modified.

In addition, evaluate whether the notice to the data subjects and other relevant parties was effective (e.g., was it done in a reasonably timely manner, were the tone and content of the notice appropriate, and was there sufficient support provided to data subjects?).

Prevent Privacy Breaches Checklist

Privacy Audits

Are adequate resources available for developing, implementing and maintaining a privacy management program?

How and why is personal information collected, used, and disclosed?

Is some personal information more sensitive than others? How is the sensitivity identified and are special privacy or security measures in place for this data?

Are the roles and responsibilities related to privacy protection identified and documented?

What steps are in place to minimize the amount of personal information collected, used and disclosed?

How and where does your institution store personal information?

How long do you retain personal information?

Who has access to the personal information and who actually needs to have that access?

Do information handling policies, practices and procedures comply with FIPPA? How are they maintained to keep pace with changes in technology and program needs? How is their effectiveness monitored, enforced and reported?

Privacy Impact Assessments (PIA)

Is a Privacy Impact Assessment conducted when designing and implementing programs or systems that will require the collection, use or disclosure of personal information or when applying technology to personal information systems?

Is the flow of personal information for a proposed new program or system, or change to an existing program or system, understood and documented?

Is your institution following the requirements and process defined in the PIA guides and tools?

How is compliance with FIPPA assessed for a proposed initiative? How will it be verified and reviewed on a go-forward basis?

Have the IPC and stakeholders impacted by the proposed initiative been consulted? What are their concerns and have they been addressed? If not, why not?
Prevent Privacy Breaches Checklist

Threat/Risk Assessments (TRA)

Has a Security Plan been prepared for each of your programs that deal with information and information technology?

How are threats to and sensitivities and vulnerabilities of information identified, and the levels of potential harm and risk assessed?

What are the most likely or serious threats that could lead to a privacy breach (e.g., hacker attack, procedural error, eavesdropping at service counter, lost laptop, etc.)? What measures are in place to counter these threats? Are they effective?

Where are the areas/programs/systems in your institution where there is the greatest likelihood of a privacy breach (e.g., where there is a high volume of transactions involving personal information)?

Is your institution following the OPS TRA requirements and process?

Privacy Breach Response Plan

Do you have an existing privacy breach response plan? If not, how will a plan be developed and implemented?

If yes, when was it last reviewed and updated? Was it approved by all parties/areas that logically would be involved in dealing with most types of privacy breaches, as well as by senior management?

How has the privacy breach protocol outlined in this Guide been adopted and applied to your institution?

Does your privacy breach response plan define the circumstances when a breach will be reported to your Deputy Minister’s Office?

Do staff, at all levels, know about your privacy breach response plan, what a privacy breach is, what to do if there is one (e.g., reporting requirements), and how to document details of a breach? If not, what training is required?

Are there templates and forms to facilitate prompt reporting of privacy breaches to appropriate parties?

Step 1 – Respond and Contain Checklist

Report

Have staff reported the privacy breach or suspected breach to their Manager? When and by whom?

Has the Manager reported the privacy breach or suspected breach to Coordinator? When?

Has the Program Manager/Coordinator reported privacy breach to:

- Delegated Decision-Maker – when and by whom?
- Deputy Minister’s Office – when and by whom?
- IPA – when and by whom?
- Legal Services – when and by whom?
- Police or other appropriate authorities – when and by whom?
- Other Parties – who, when and by whom?

Assess

Did a privacy breach occur (i.e., unauthorized disclosure of personal information)?

If no, is there another type of incident report to be completed or action to be taken?

If yes, what happened – describe incident/facts – what (cause of breach such as inadvertent verbal disclosure or theft of a laptop computer), when (date and time of incident), how, where (location), who identified breach (data subject, self-identified or by IPC)?

Whose personal information was affected by the breach (e.g., to whom does the data likely belong)?

What type of personal information was involved (e.g., unique identifiers such as Social Insurance Numbers or Driver’s Licence numbers, personal health information, sensitive data)?

Who had custody and control of the personal information involved (e.g., program area, health information custodian, third party service provider)?

If third party service providers involved, are there specific contractual obligations that must be followed?

What medium was the personal information (e.g., oral, electronic or hardcopy)?

What is the likely scope of the privacy breach (i.e., how many individuals/areas/institutions affected)? Are other jurisdictions involved?

</tbody>
</table>
Step 1 – Respond and Contain Checklist

- Security: is there the potential to jeopardize the physical safety of your employees, provide access to other assets, or result in future breaches due to similar technical failures?

- Public health or safety: does the breach put public health or safety at risk?

- Public trust: will the breach result in loss of public trust or confidence? Does the situation require issuing a public statement/notice to reduce fear, or to maintain trust, or to give those directly affected the means to protect themselves or mitigate their own risk or consequences of the breach?

- Legal: does the breach constitute a contravention of legislative (e.g., FIPPA or PHIPA) or contractual requirements (e.g., with third party service providers), or might it result in civil litigation?

- Other: will breach result in IPC investigation, financial consequences for your institution, questions in Legislative Assembly, media attention?

Contain

What steps do you need to take immediately to contain/control the breach (e.g., suspend or isolate process/activity affected by breach, shut down website or computer system temporarily, change passwords or locks, etc.)?

Have you taken all necessary steps to retrieve personal information from all sources to which it was inappropriately disclosed (e.g., identify who had unauthorized access to personal information, retrieve hard copies, obtain assurances the parties have not make copies or will use or disclose the data, and document contact information of anyone who may have accessed the personal information involved in the privacy breach in case follow-up is required)?

Have appropriate staff been informed of the breach and provided with instructions on how to control the breach and prevent further unauthorized disclosures of personal information?

Do your policies, procedures, practices need to be changed immediately to contain breach or prevent further breaches?

How are the programs or systems affected by the breach to be monitored for signs of continued problems?

Document

Are the details of the privacy breach and action taken to contain it and mitigate its consequences being documented? How, by whom and where located?
Step 1 – Respond and Contain Checklist

Brief

Has the Program Manager/Coordinator/Delegated Decision-Maker undertaken all appropriate briefings? When and to whom?

Are any of the circumstances outlined on pages 19 and 20 present? Have you consulted with Legal Services and Issues Management/Communications to evaluate the severity and scope of the privacy breach?

Does your Deputy Minister’s Office need to be briefed?

If a privacy breach has been reported to your Deputy Minister’s Office or Minister’s Office, have you informed the IPA of this development?

Step 2 – Notify Checklist

Is notice to be given to individuals affected by the breach? Yes/No

If no, why not? Who approved decision? Has the IPA been consulted on decision not to notify?

If yes, have the best practices related to written or verbal notice been followed? Who should give the notice, how, when? How is consistent notice to be ensured?

If direct notice to the data subject is not possible (e.g., contact information unavailable or identity of data subject unknown), is an alternative approach to notice appropriate?

Should notice been given to the IPC? If so, when and by whom?

Do other parties (e.g., other institutions or jurisdictions) need to be notified of the privacy breach?

Are details of notice process being documented? How and by whom?

Note: Institutions under FIPPA that also are health information custodians under PHIPA should follow the notice requirements under subsections 12(2) and 12(3) of PHIPA.
Step 3 – Investigate Checklist

Are you investigating the privacy breach?

- If yes, how, by whom, and how findings being documented?
- If no, why not? Is a third party conducting the investigation?

What caused the privacy breach (e.g., accident, deliberate action, internal or external action, insufficient knowledge or training of staff, inadequate security or privacy policies, procedures and practices)?

Does the privacy breach raise systemic issues that need to be addressed across your institution (e.g., lack of staff training, insufficient access controls, firewall deficiencies, etc.) or across government?

Had your institution taken reasonable steps to prevent the privacy breach?

Does your institution’s privacy management plan need to be modified as a result of the privacy breach in order to help prevent future breaches and to prepare you to respond to breaches in a more timely and effective manner?

If so, what changes are recommended, how will these be undertaken, by whom and when?

Step 4 – Implement Change Checklist

Were appropriate decision-makers and senior management briefed of results of investigation(s)? When and by whom?

Has implementing your investigation’s recommendations been approved? When and by whom? If not, why not?

Is any additional follow-up/report back to the IPC necessary?

How are the recommended remedial measures to be implemented, by whom and when?

How is their effectiveness to be monitored and evaluated? By whom?

   • it is required by law or for the purposes of law enforcement.

25. Where the results of a matching of personal information may lead to a denial, termination, suspension or reduction of a benefit, entitlement or other assistance, the ministry shall:
   • verify or ensure the accuracy of the results of the matching exercise in a manner that is independent of the matching system;
   • provide notice to the individual affected by the matching exercise; and

“IPC PRACTICES NO. 26: SAFE AND SECURE DISPOSAL PROCEDURES FOR MUNICIPAL INSTITUTIONS”

SEE ATTACHED
Safe and Secure Disposal Procedures for Municipal Institutions

All organizations should dispose of personal information in a safe and secure way when it is no longer needed. While provincial government organizations have been provided with guidance on this through Regulations and Directives, municipal organizations have not. This issue of IPC Practices offers guidance and practical suggestions on how municipal organizations can dispose of personal information in a safe and secure manner.

Background

To prevent unauthorized parties from accessing personal data, it is important to use care in the disposal and destruction of personal information.

Section 40(4) combined with Regulation 459 of the provincial Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the provincial Act) deals with the disposal of personal information. Section 4(1) of Regulation 459 states:

Every head shall ensure that all reasonable steps are taken to protect the security and confidentiality of personal information that is to be destroyed, including protecting its security and confidentiality during its storage, transportation, handling and destruction.

Section 4(3) goes on to state:

In determining whether all reasonable steps are taken under subsection (1) or (2), the head shall consider the nature of the personal information to be destroyed or transferred.

Section 6 deals with the need for provincial organizations to keep a record of what personal information has been destroyed and states:

1) Every head of an institution shall ensure that the institution maintains a disposal record setting out what personal information has been destroyed or transferred to the Archives and the date of that destruction or transfer.

2) The head shall ensure that the disposal record maintained under subsection (1) does not contain personal information.

Section 30(4) of the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (the municipal Act) deals with the disposal of personal information and states:

A head shall dispose of personal information under the control of the institution in accordance with the regulations.

Unlike the provincial Act, there are no equivalent regulations pursuant to section 30(4) of the municipal Act.

Thus, we have developed the following procedures to assist municipal organizations with the disposal of records.
Recommended Procedures

Preparing disposal record
A disposal record is a list indicating what records have been destroyed, when, by whom, and using what method of destruction. Records that have been kept or archived may also be tracked. It could be a simple list on paper, or part of an electronic records management system.

The disposal record applies to both paper and electronic (computer and video) records, and must not contain personal information. Referring to the record "type" rather than the contents of the record will help you avoid this. For example, "1992 Home Visits" would be an acceptable entry on the disposal record, however, "Home Visits: John Doe" would not. See sample on next page.

Obtaining authorization from the Head
For record keeping purposes, you can obtain authorization from the Head before destroying records.

Disposing of records safely and securely
Some records containing sensitive personal information should be destroyed on-site, while others may be taken off-site for destruction. Whatever method is used, it is important that proper steps be taken to ensure that personal information on all storage media (paper, electronic and video) cannot later be used or reconstructed.

Paper records containing personal information should be shredded, not simply thrown out with regular garbage or general records.

For electronic records, care must be taken because utility programs can be used to reconstruct the deleted information. Furthermore, erasing or reformatting computer disks or personal computers with hard drives that once contained personal information is not enough. Using a utility such as Norton Utilities, PC Tools, or a recent version of the operating system will remove all data from the medium so that it cannot be reconstructed.

Similarly, video tapes containing personal information should be physically destroyed — not thrown out with the regular garbage. Overwriting a video tape that contains personal information with non-personal information will remove the previous images, but this should be done on the premises by authorized staff. For more information, please refer to IPC Practices, Number 10 — Video Surveillance: The Privacy Implications.

Finally, when records are destroyed by an outside agency, the privacy provisions of the Acts should be observed. It is a good idea to have a formally signed contract or agreement outlining these provisions and addressing the need for security, confidentiality, and the disposal method that will be used.

Retaining records of historic value
While some records containing personal information have only temporary value and may be destroyed after the retention period has expired, others should be preserved or archived for future generations.

You may wish to consult other sources, such as RIM (Recorded Information Management). These fact sheets published by the Archives of Ontario provide tips on good records-management practices that can help you determine how to deal with maintaining records of historic value. These are available from the office of the Archives of Ontario, 6th Floor, 77 Grenville Street, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1B3, (416) 327-1600.

Ensuring employee awareness and training
Staff should understand the importance of and the best ways to safely and securely dispose of records. Establishing training and awareness sessions about the handling and use of personal information, including privacy and disposal, is a good start.

Conclusion
It is to the advantage of every government organization to ensure that personal information is protected during the disposal process. Once an individual's privacy is lost, there is no recovering it. Inadvertent disclosures of personal information can lead to public embarrassment for the organization, as well as costly investigations and other consequences that could have been avoided. The Information and Privacy Commissioner/Ontario hopes that you will be able to use the suggestions outlined in this IPC Practices as a framework for enhancing or developing your own disposal policies and procedures.
