It was noted that the accessibility regulations were developed under the previous government.

Review of Report CAOR-CW-17-18 County-Wide Joint Accessibility Advisory Committee

Ms. Nunno provided background information for the Joint Accessibility Committee. She advised that the Terms of Reference were adopted through Report CAOR-CW-20-18 by Grey County Council. Paper copies of the Terms of Reference were distributed to the Committee members.

Ms. Nunno advised that the Committee consists of public members and participating local representatives from Georgian Bluffs, Grey Highlands, Hanover, Southgate, Blue Mountains, and West Grey. Wendi Hunter noted that Chatsworth is not required to have an accessibility advisory committee and that Owen Sound and Meaford have their own committees. Laura Johnston noted that West Grey will have a separate committee in addition to participating on the joint committee. Andy Underwood noted that hospitals and school boards are also required to have accessibility committees.

The Committee discussed what is needed for members to fulfill their role and how the Committee can best meet the member municipalities' needs. Ms. Nunno noted the role of the Committee, including: to advise council, to review site plans under the Planning Act, and to make practices more inclusive.

Ms. Nunno noted the importance of providing accessibility training for new staff members. Discussion occurred on how local municipalities record staff training. Ms. Nunno intends to develop a tracking system for training. She will share more information when it is available. Ms. Nunno noted that plain language was a recommended area for more training.

Discussion occurred on when to bring to site plans to the Committee. Ms. Nunno advised that the Committee decides what plans to review. Wendi Hunter noted that building plans are more complicated and require more expertise than site plans. Laura Johnston noted that local municipalities can also bring forward items for the Committee to review. Andy Underwood provided information on reviewing site plans. Catherine Scholtz noted the Ontario Built Environment standards and the Ontario Building Code. Ms. Scholtz also suggested a presentation from a planner on how to review site plans.

Councillor Burley noted that Committee members are not expected to be experts, but can provide valuable input. Discussion occurred on the role that the Committee can play in reviewing plans, such as parking spaces, doors, and layout.

Brian Tocheri noted the process for bringing site plans to the Committee. The Committee should reach out to each building/planning department so that the municipalities know to bring the site plans to the Committee.

Brian Tocheri noted timelines for development and that Committee may need to meet more frequently in order to ensure that site plans are not held up. The Committee discussed sending out the site plan electronically prior to meetings. Catherine Scholtz noted the need for members to have access to information in alternate formats. Brian Tocheri noted that the author of the site plans could be invited to the meeting. Andy Underwood suggested considering confidentiality agreements.

Ms. Yip advised that she will take the plan back to the senior management team at Grey Highlands and will then prepare a report to Grey Highlands Council.
